

London Contemporary Dance School

The opportunity to study at London Contemporary Dance School is a valuable one for South Asian dance students, especially those who have the potential to pursue a professional career in dance. A BA (Hons) qualification is the gateway to not only this career but also to the wider arts world and beyond.

From September 2004, the School is launching new specialist training in South Asian Dance, developed with Akademi, as part of its three year degree programme.

There are still some places remaining on the course for September 2004. For further information, audition dates and an application form, please contact the School office at lcds@theplace.org.uk or call 020 7387 0152.
